

Dear RT and the Web2Creative team,

I would like to express my thanks for the great efforts you put into developing the new Reel Impact website. I would also like to congratulate you for a job well done.

We were looking for a true vendor-partner relationship. You provided us with quality service at a reasonable cost.

At first, we were a bit concerned with the short length of time you had been in business. You persuaded us to go with you by giving us a competitive price and guaranteeing our satisfaction.

Looking back and considering the amount of revisions we went through and the time it took to develop the content, I am sure we made the right decision by choosing Web2Creative. I am convinced we would not have received the same attention and quality of service from anyone else.

As you promised, the quality of work was excellent, your attentiveness exemplary, and you met all of our deadlines. I would gladly recommend you and Web2Creative as a design and development team to others.

Sincerely
